

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

THE NINEVITES' CONVERSION is quite astounding. Such an immediate and all-encompassing turning away from sin in this wicked and non-Israelite city (even down to its animals) towards a faith in God akin to Abraham's or that of Moses was a testament to God's power and a telling criticism of Israel's infidelity.

The God whose very way of being is the source and reason for such salvation is described in today's psalm: God is true, merciful, steadfast in love, good and upright. This is the God we know in Jesus of Nazareth who dwelt among us and who offers us fullness of life. Today's readings encourage us to follow the example of those in the past who have given to this God of love a complete and unreserved response of faith.

The first disciples demonstrate such readiness and resolve: leaving behind their thriving business ventures, family and employees, they follow Jesus regardless of the cost. Their actions are not a counsel to shirk life's responsibilities, but to make God the priority. Saint Paul also advises living with this detached perspective, always ready to follow and to make Jesus' way our own. May such unity in willing discipleship be a gift for us and for the entire Christian family.

Dear Parishioners:

The parish hall has undergone extensive updating with a fresh coat of paint, new electronic blinds, and more comfortable chairs. I trust you will enjoy and appreciate the work that has been done. My thanks to Maria Amodio, and other members of the parish social committee, staff, and Knights of Columbus for their help, insight and planning.

This work was done to also compliment the extensive work already completed by the Archdiocese of Toronto, Communications Office, in preparing our parish hall to be a “hub” site, a place where other Catholics in our region can come for conferences, workshops and other events. As part of the Family of Faith campaign, Cardinal Collins desired that parts of the diocese should be designated as meeting sites (hub sites). The diocese has paid for the installation of modern technology that permits live-streaming events, lectures, and inter-active sharing with other locations across the diocese.

I am very grateful that our parish was selected for this important and exciting purpose, and I am sure the benefits will flow directly into our own parish initiatives as well. The use of modern technology in promoting and teaching the faith is one of the more important initiatives that has come out of the Family of Faith campaign. I look forward to all the blessings that this will bring forth within our parish and within the Archdiocese as we spread the Good News of the Gospel.

Fr. Pat
