

THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

32th Sunday in Ordinary Time

THROUGH HIS EXCHANGE with the Sadducees, Jesus gives a glimpse into the life of the resurrection. What can we know about it? What should we expect? How should we prepare? What will happen to our relationships through the resurrection?

In His answer, Jesus escapes the boundaries of anything His audience had ever heard. He describes the resurrection as a call to a bigger life. To live in God is more than a mortal existence: it is an active participation in God's salvation for the world. This resurrection, understood as life in God, is sustained by a renewed relationship to God, ourselves and others.

That is why our hope is in the God who renews the world. A hope not just in something that may not be or in something that has long since past, but a hope rooted in a relationship that continues to transform us every day.

When we view the past, present and future in light of the resurrection, we are in solidarity with those who have gone before, those who journey with us now, and those who are yet to come. It is the "bigger picture" and a shared mission with the saints to help transform the world by the love of God that transforms our own hearts. Even now, in God "we live and move and have our being." (Acts 17.28)

The month of November offers us the opportunity to pray for our deceased in a special remembrance at all Masses. In particular, we pray for deceased members of our families and those within our parish community who died in the past year.

For those who wish to write the names of loved ones at the Remembrance Table, you are welcome to do so throughout the month of November. A special prayer intention will be offered at each daily Mass in November.

NOVEMBER 10, 2019

Dear Parishioners:

Thank you so much for the support, prayers and congratulations extended to me this past week on the news of my being named a Monsignor. I know that there is a desire to celebrate this in some way (such as a time of fellowship in the hall) and I promise that will happen once I receive the papal scroll from his Eminence; I'd like for you to be able to see it as well. This could be in a few weeks, or so, but we will keep you informed. In the meantime, I am truly focused, like you, on the upcoming and wonderful occasion of the Ordination to Deacon of John Sutka (our former seminarian), Saturday, November 16th, at the 4:30 p.m. Mass. I hope many of you will be able to attend. It is somewhat rare for an Ordination to take place in a parish setting and so this will truly provide a special moment for our parish as well. We also look forward to John's priestly Ordination on May 9th, at St. Michael's Cathedral-Basilica. I invite you to keep John in your prayers. This is a period of great joy for our community and so let us be grateful to God for His many blessings.

"FOR OUR COMMON HOME"

Cardinal Collins has encouraged support for the Development and Peace campaign, entitled, "For Our Common Home". This campaign is a two year program focused on ecological justice and the vision of Laudato Si. The theme for the first year of the campaign (this year) is "A Future for the Amazon, a Future for All." Cardinal Collins, in his support of the campaign, stated, "At a time when environmental concerns are at the top of the minds of most citizens and the Amazon rainforest is literally going up in flames, "For Our Common Home" helps Canadians understand and address a global problem."

The Development and Peace committee of St. Edward's Church will be highlighting this theme and some action items on the weekend of Christ the King (November 24th). More information will be forthcoming in future bulletins and on the bulletin board. Please refer to the website of Development and Peace for a comprehensive study of this year's campaign (www.devp.org/en)
